

MEMORANDUM

To: Tom Avey and Fellowship Council
From: Dr. Larry N. Chamberlain, President and CEO
Grace Brethren Investment Foundation, Inc.
Re: Report to Fellowship Council
Date: January 9, 2012

Greetings, colleagues . . .

I am pleased to provide you with this courtesy update of our organization as a cooperating national ministry affiliated with the Fellowship of Grace Brethren Churches.

Our board of directors is composed of fourteen individuals who reside in the several regions as prescribed in the FGBC by-laws. Re-elected to the board following the most recent board ballot are Ralph Hampton (CA), Jim Poyner (FL), and Kent Semple (OH). Newly elected to the board is George Merchant (MD), filling the resignation of George Hutchison. Ted Adomanis serves as the Chairman of the Board. Ken Seyfert is Vice-President, Treasurer, and Executive Director of Operations. Brenda Byers is Secretary of the Corporation, Chief Financial Officer, and Director of Finance and Administration.

Grace Brethren Investment Foundation, Inc. exists as a “church extension fund,” as defined by the North American Association of Securities Administrators. We are regulated by the securities laws (aka “blue sky laws”) of the 40+ states in which we have investors. The primary purpose of the Foundation is limited in scope by these regulatory authorities: “To enable individuals who support the objectives of the Fellowship of Grace Brethren Churches to invest funds at a reasonable rate of interest and to provide thereby a source of funding, in the form of capital loans, for acquiring, developing, and remodeling, land and buildings for Grace Brethren churches, schools, and other associated organizations.” We are precluded from making loans to individuals, and can only loan funds to 501(c)(3) churches and organizations within the Fellowship of Grace Brethren Churches.

The rate of interest paid to our investors is currently 2.50%, decreasing to 2.25% effective February 1, 2012. As of December 31, 2011, our investor accounts total $84,675,188, or an increase of 5.02% from December 31, 2010 and 10.7% from December 31, 2009. Approximately 63 Grace Brethren churches have mortgage loans outstanding, all of which are paying as agreed and none of which are delinquent in their payment obligations at year’s end.

We are pleased to report that the continuing economic downturn of the financial markets has not affected our asset base. All of our loans outstanding are current and all of our reserve investments are placed in safe, short-term securities. We have long held to a very conservative investment portfolio, avoiding investments in equities and other price-sensitive securities that can be affected adversely by shifts in the financial markets.

GBIF is a long-standing member of the Evangelical Council for Financial Accountability (ECFA), which calls its members to very high standards of financial integrity and fiduciary responsibility. Our records are periodically examined by ECFA’s field auditors, and we were pleased with a recent summary comment: “We found Grace Brethren Investment Foundation in full compliance with ECFA’s Standards. You are to be commended for your continuing commitment to these Standards.”

In addition to ECFA’s recent review, we continue to submit our financial records for annual audit by Capin Crouse, CPA’s. Their reports find us to be in full compliance with the high standards of the accounting profession for a financial institution. Further, we remain in good standing with state securities regulators to whom we are accountable with annual reports and registration renewals.

It has been our practice to make goodwill contributions to Grace Brethren ministries for the continued growth and viability of the Fellowship. We also make generous annual contributions toward the expenses of the office of the Fellowship Coordinator, including additional appropriations in recent years to help underwrite the increased expenditures of the office of Moderator. In addition, we serve as the administrative organization for the FGBC Chaplaincy ministry and the office of the Endorsing Agent (see attached chaplains roster), raising funds through the Eagle Commission and subsidizing the expenses with an annual contribution. Further, we provide voluntary, seconded leadership and staff support for the FGBC Retirement Investment Plan and contribute toward the plan's administration expenses.

We support via goodwill contributions the financial needs of our Fellowship as categorized by the Commitment to Common Ministry: Church Planting, Leadership Development, and Integrated Ministry. Our contributions to these worthy initiatives totaled $580,000 in 2011 from 2010 earnings, not including subsidized support of the Eagle Commission and subsidized administrative support re seconded personnel and contributions to the FGBC Retirement Investment Plan.

At our board meetings in Albuquerque in 2010, the directors adopted the below Statement of Vision that expresses our ministry's commitment to the Fellowship of Grace Brethren Churches.

Ken Seyfert and I are planning to join you for your meetings at Long Beach in January. We will be eager to address any questions you may have at that time.

Thank you for the privilege and opportunity to serve as your colleagues in the awesome and powerful work of the Great Commission.

God bless you . . .

Respectfully,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "Ken Seyfert", written over a horizontal line.

P.S. The Endorsing Agent's Report to Fellowship Council is included with this communication below, including the most recent Chaplains Roster.

GRACE BRETHREN INVESTMENT FOUNDATION, INC.

STATEMENT OF VISION – 2010-2015

Adopted by Board of Directors, September, 2010

- 1) Be the lender of choice among our Grace Brethren churches and affiliated organizations, by offering a Christ-honoring purpose, competitive rates, and affordable terms.
- 2) Be a ministry organization where Grace Brethren people can invest securely and provide capital financing for member churches and affiliated organizations.
- 3) Be a contributor to church planting and to other worthy ministries of the FGBC.
- 4) Be an organization committed to integrity and the highest of ethical standards and practices, including the guardianship and management of funds entrusted to our care.
- 5) Be an organization that participates in the advancement of cooperative initiatives associated with the FGBC and our community of affiliated organizations.
- 6) Be an organization that follows the purposes, expectations, and guidelines prescribed by regulatory agencies to which we are accountable as a church extension fund.
- 7) Be an employer of qualified and impassioned personnel who carry out our mission and purpose with efficiency and impact.
- 8) Be dedicated to the teachings of Christ as demonstrated in our workplace and lifestyles, serving as an exemplary model of organizational and individual behavior.
- 9) Be committed to creating a learning environment for our staff and board, providing for opportunities to stay current on matters supportive of our mission and purpose.
- 10) Be understanding of our distinctive role in a greater cause, that finances are but a means to an end, knowing that organizational prosperity should be clothed with humility, with a sense of caring and grace, shunning at all times arrogance, pride, and power.

To The Members Of
The Chaplain Committee and Board of Grace Brethren Investment Foundation
On The
Status of Chaplains and the Activities of the Endorsing Agent
November 2011
Edited for Fellowship Council January 9, 2012

INTRODUCTORY COMMENTS:

This report will update the status of our chaplains. It also includes any information I have regarding chaplain prospects and status of chaplain candidates.

VISITS TO CHAPLAINS AND TRAVELS COMPLETED AND ANTICIPATED:

1. Liberia, May 16-28, IAEC Chaplain Training
2. National Conference, July 16-20.

Anticipated:

1. GBIF Board (mid-November)
2. Grace college chapel and East Side (Blacklick) Ohio (also, mid-Nov.)
3. Meeting with Dr. Jeff Gill and Chaplain Scott Shaffer regarding the addition of an academic track for seminarians who want to prepare for the chaplaincy (Scheduled for Nov. 9)
4. NCMAF and NAECC (January 2012)

Visits to chaplains yet unplanned

CHAPLAIN ROSTER:

1. Attached is a chaplain roster with information current as of this report. It is an evolving document and experiences many updates during the year.
2. Chaplain Retired Roster
3. Copy of email from Chaplain George Youstra to Chaplain (Ret.) Charles Card
4. Copy of bio of Mark Penfold

PROMOTION INFORMATION:

James Schaefer was considered again for promotion to Lt. Colonel and was selected. I consider this a tribute to James outstanding performance and working hard over the years when he was not selected. He is now a Lieutenant Colonel. Two men were considered for promotion to Major: Bill Graham and Jeff Wirick. Bill Graham was selected and has already been promoted to Major. Jeff Wirick was not selected. Lou Urban was considered for promotion to

Lt. Commander but informed me that he was not selected. Mark Penfold was considered for promotion to full Colonel but was not selected. Mark has an outstanding record but, at this level it is very competitive. "Many are called but few are chosen."

CHAPLAIN CANDIDATES:

Mike Landers: Mike will have been examined for ordination at this meeting of the board. I will report on the outcome in the Chaplain Committee. If he is approved and recommended he is then eligible for endorsement to the chaplaincy. His plan is to go into the Reserves and do church planting. He has been in touch with "Vision Ohio." (Update: Mike passed his ordination exam and has been accessioned as a Chaplain in the US Army Reserves.)

CHAPLAIN POTENTIALS:

Jeremy Pfeister: Student at Liberty University Graduate extension program.

Ken Stewart: A Brethren pastor who has inquired about changing denominations so that he can become an Army Chaplain. The Brethren are pacifists and do not endorse. He is under the mentorship of two GBC pastors.

Todd McQueen: Student at Grace Seminary (may have age limit restriction)

Jarris Suggs: I have lost contact with Jarris.

Paul Hughes: Modesto GBC. Initial contact but no follow up.

CHAPLAIN UPDATES:

ARMY

John Arnoldbik

John remains at his unit at Fort Huachuca, Arizona. He reports often of his ministry of Bible Studies, Prayer Breakfasts, personal witness, and decisions for Christ. He has a commander, whom I have met, that is very high in his praise of John's ministry in his unit and the value to him personally of having a chaplain like John on his staff.

Bill Graham

Bill was selected for promotion to Major while at Fort Irwin, CA. He was promoted soon after and moved to Fort Campbell, KY, where he is now a Brigade Chaplain with 5 other chaplains to supervise. He loves his new assignment and being back at Fort Campbell. He has also been selected for the resident program of the Command and General Staff College (CGSC) at Fort Leavenworth, KS. This is a very high honor and speaks eloquently of Bill's military record. Right now he is asking for a deferment so that he can remain with his Brigade for one more year before moving to Kansas.

Richard Hurst

Richard completed his tour in Afghanistan and returned back to Fort Drum, New York, on October 13. He has applied for clinical training for chaplains but I have not yet been told whether or not he has been accepted. His time in Afghanistan was wonderful ministry and his commander gave him a strong evaluation. Star, his wife, has been involved in ministry to families at Fort Drum during his absence.

John Jacobsen

John has been reassigned to Fort Leonard Wood, Missouri where he ministers to soldiers who are in basic training. This is one of the most fulfilling assignments a chaplain can have as new soldiers are open to spiritual counsel more than at any other time in their lives.

Jeff Mason

Jeff was to have deployed to Afghanistan with a National Guard unit at about this time. He developed knee problems which were considered for surgery. He has informed me that surgery is no longer considered but that the problem is serious enough to keep him from deploying. A Guardsman needs employment when not deployed and, at this time, Jeff has no employment.

James Murray

James has completed all but one of his requirements for applying for accessioning to active duty with the US Army. As of this date he is still waiting for an interview with a senior chaplain which will then complete his file. I would suspect that before the first of the New Year he will have been considered for active duty with the Army Chaplaincy. I am quite optimistic about his potential for selection but the chaplaincy has pretty much met their recruiting goals and so competition is fairly stiff. His reserve unit will be mobilized in January. If he is not selected for active duty he will remain with his Reserve unit and deploy with them. (Update: James has been accessioned as an active-duty Chaplain in the US Army and is awaiting orders.)

David Mvondo

David did not successfully complete his Ranger training and has been reassigned to the 1/80st Armor Battalion at Fort Benning, GA. Ironically, David passed every test for Ranger qualification except the final one which is called "Peer Evaluation." There is nothing about it that seems fair since his peers are the ones who decide whether or not he is to be granted the Ranger tab. He has taken it in good stride after his initial disappointment and is busy in ministry with his unit. David and Whitney have a new baby girl.

Charles Pridgen

Charles is now in Iraq serving with his soldiers from Fort Bliss, 3rd BDE of the 1st Armored Division. Specifics of his location are in the roster. His troops are scattered so he is traveling to get to minister to his unit. He knows he is in combat and a combat zone because sometimes the worst comes out in such situations. The outgoing unit is not altogether re-deployed but soon he will be taking over the ministry on his base and doing the chapel services. His family appears to be taking it all in stride also but Ada did lose her mother around the time of his deployment.

Mark Penfold

Mark remains on the faculty at the U.S. Army Chaplain Center and School as Chief of the Training Execution Division. He was not selected for promotion to Colonel and has informed me that his intention is to retire in 2013. It is, understandably, quite fluid at this point. I am recommending that he be selected and approved by the board to be my replacement when he does become available.

James Schaefer

As mentioned earlier, James is now a Lieutenant Colonel and is still assigned at Fort Bragg to the 1st Sustainment Command which oversees activities in Kuwait until units are actually moved to their AOR (Area of Responsibility now in Afghanistan). He helps to oversee the work and ministry of 68 and assistants. It is an all consuming responsibility. His promotion might well call for reassignment to a Lt. Col. slot either at Fort Bragg or at some other installation. Elizabeth is doing very well physically.

Scott Shaffer

Scott continues to enjoy his position at Grace Schools as the military liaison staff member for the students that are preparing to serve as chaplains and those who have come to the schools from military service. He is directly involved in the setting up of the new graduate program set up especially to train men and women who have an interest in the chaplaincy. He continues to serve his National Guard unit and, I believe, will eventually apply for active duty.

Pete Stone

Pete continues his ministry at Fort Campbell, KY. He had been the rear detachment chaplain for one of the combat units that had deployed to Afghanistan. Since they have returned from their duty Pete was reassigned to 1/187 Infantry Battalion, the "Rakasans." This unit did an airborne drop in Japan during WWII. The word "Rakasan" is Japanese for "falling umbrellas." Pete loves his work and has been able to connect with Bill Graham, another of our chaplains at Campbell.

Jeff Wirick

Jeff's endorsement has been withdrawn by the Endorsing Agent and he is no longer serving as a Chaplain in the US Army. The circumstances are confidential.

NAVY

Lou Urban

Lou reports very positively and often from the battle field of Iraq. He took a tough blow when he was informed there in Afghanistan that he was not selected for promotion to Lt. Commander. Some of this has to do with the downsizing of the military. He believes that, with his former Army service, he will be able to accumulate enough years to qualify for a 20 year pension. He tells of meeting with a Russian (actually Georgian) Orthodox priest who ministers to the Georgian soldiers that serve in Afghanistan. He will come back to the US for his mid-tour leave around Thanksgiving and then return to finish out his time in Afghanistan which ends in the February time frame when he returns to the US with his Marines.

Justin Hayes

Justin continues to do a great ministry with his “Chaplain for the Airfield” ministry at Camp Pendleton (near San Diego) California. He is taking part in the chapel services as well as spending his days at the airfield meeting and ministering to his Marines. He loves his work and Becca is loved by everyone she meets as she has a wonderful vision of her role as a chaplain’s wife. Justin reports that he is “not under-utilized.” Good chaplains are never “under-utilized.” Years ago a chaplain told me that the only things that limited his ministry were his time and his energy. There are a lot of 12 or 12+ hour days spent by many of our men ministering to their soldiers, sailors, airmen and marines.

AIR FORCE

George Youstra

George transferred his endorsement to the FGBC this past year and continues as Wing Chaplain (senior chaplain) at Beal Air Force Base near Sacramento, California. He is just an outstanding chaplain and officer and was able to attend National Conference this past summer in Wooster, OH. He is 6’8” and so makes a considerable “presence” where ever he goes. However, he also was a great blessing at conference and a superb role model for the younger chaplains. Incidentally, George is present for these board meetings as he agreed to accept our invitation to sit in with the committee that is meeting with Mike Landers to examine him for ordination. George and his wonderful companion, Rose, have had frequent contact with the Auburn GBC and the pastor, Phil Sparling and his wife. He and Rose have led a number of marriage enrichment retreats for his airmen. These retreats have reached out to nearly 500 of these airmen and their wives.

JP Prado (Chaplain Candidate)

JP spent most of his summer on Air Force bases getting indoctrinated into what Air Force chaplains do. He completed the summer by taking the basic course for Air Force chaplain at Fort Jackson, NC. He has returned to Phoenix and is working two jobs and taking additional courses from Liberty Seminary toward completion of his MDiv. I was privileged recently to take him to lunch and get a first hand account of his very full summer. What an outstanding young man. God has blessed the FGBC with some very outstanding men of God who are ministering to our military men and women.

There are a total of 22 names on this list that are FGBC Chaplains: Active Duty, Reserve, National Guard and Veterans Administration. There are 2 names that are potentials: AD, RSV, NG (17), Civil Air Patrol (2), Veterans Administration (3). Thirteen of these men are on active duty. This is unique in the history of the FGBC. It is also worthy of note that about 50 pastors have served as military chaplain going back to WWII. The FGBC is deeply involved in the outreach of ministry to our military. Three of our former chaplains have received the silver star for heroism. One received the Bronze Star for Heroism.
